OUR VEGETABLES

WE GROW PRODUCE ON OUR TWO SELF-OWNED
ORGANICALLY CERTIFIED FARMS,
USING STRINGENT ORGANIC STANDARDS AND COMBINING USDA AND CHINESE ORGANIC PRACTICES.

YANTAI FARM

Located in a coastal region of the Shandong province, our 1,000-mu (165 acres) Yantai farm grows 109 different varieties of organic products, from leafy greens to root vegetables.

CHONGMING FARM

Our second 1,000-mu (165 acres) farm is located on Chongming Island, about a one-hour drive from downtown Shanghai. With 80 greenhouses in operation, the Chongming location primarily grows leafy greens, such as kale, spinach, and a variety of lettuce types. The farm provides about 50% of the produce used in our four locations.

WHAT DO NPG CHICKENS EAT?

Corn

Wheat

Traditional Chinese
Medicine

NPG chickens are raised on a farm at Yantai, Shandong, using natural, traditional methods with zero antibiotics, hormones, or harmful additives. The chickens are raised indoors in a clean, safe, and cage-free environment with ample space to roam around freely. As a result, NPG chickens are more nutritious and 30% less fatty than conventionally grown chickens.

ROASTED CHICKEN

Interestingly, NPG also uses plant-based Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) to raise a better and healthier flock. These responsibly raised chickens eat a 100% vegetarian diet made up of corn, wheat, soya, and other important nutrients.
